

CORNWALL WINTER GOLF SERIES

EVENT NO 5 – PERRANPORTH GOLF CLUB

The fifth and final Cornwall Winter Golf Series event for the 2011/2012 season, sponsored by Truro and Penwith College, was held at Perranporth Golf Club. When most of the country was covered in snow, Perranporth was in pleasant sunshine and 25 competitors played a golf course in great condition.

It was home member Conor Wilson who won the scratch event with a fantastic round of 41 scratch points. This was enough to beat Matt Richards (West Cornwall) by four shots, who came second on 37 points and Trevose's Ben Westgate was in third place on countback with 36 points

Conor Wilson also managed to win the handicap event as well with 40 handicap points, with Matt Richards also coming in second place in the handicap event on 38 points.

Josh Greenaway has retained the Winter Golf Series Order of Merit with 57 points. Josh has played some fantastic golf over the last 18 months and fully deserves his first place again. Matt Richards had a great finish to the WGS and came in second place in the Order of Merit with 44.5 points.

The Order of Merit consists of the top 3 scores from the 5 events. The top eight in the Order of Merit plus two wild cards will play against a team of Professionals on Sunday 4th March at Trevose Golf Club.

The Winter Golf Series would like to thank Perranporth Golf Club for hosting the event, especially Club Secretary David Mugford and the greenkeepers for producing a golf course in fantastic condition. The Winter Golf Series would also like to thank Truro and Penwith College for their continued support of the Cornwall Winter Golf Series.
